

To Our Valued Customers

April 28th, 2026

Mitsubishi Materials Hardmetal Corporation

Notice on Order Restrictions for Our Products Due to Tungsten Supply Shortages

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for your continued support and patronage of our products.

As a member of the Mitsubishi Materials Group, we have made it our top priority to ensure a stable supply to our customers by increasing the ratio of recycled tungsten. However, in addition to the recent sharp surge in APT (Ammonium Paratungstate) prices, the supply and demand conditions for raw materials have deteriorated significantly, giving rise to a situation that could have a serious impact on the continuation of our business.

In light of these circumstances, we regret to inform you that we have decided to implement order restrictions on our products as outlined below.

We sincerely apologize for the substantial inconvenience and burden this may cause our valued customers, and we respectfully ask for your kind understanding.

【Details】

1. Applicable Products

Wear resistant tools, Rock tools, and Carbide Materials

2. Details of Restrictions

Restrictions on orders exceeding our anticipated order volume

3. Effective Date

Immediately

※For further details, please contact our office directly.

We are continuously working to improve our supply system through measures such as additional procurement of raw materials and optimization of our production structure, and we will promptly inform you of any revisions to or the lifting of these restrictions once improvements in the supply environment are confirmed.